

Simon Says

Game

First, pick someone to be Simon. Simon stands at the front of the group and gives commands for everyone else to follow, such as “Simon says do a jumping jack” or “Simon says run in place.”

The group is to follow the commands that begin with “Simon says.” If Simon gives a command that doesn’t start with the words “Simon says,” everyone should hold still.

The person playing Simon should speak very softly so everyone has to listen carefully to hear him or her.
